About Us

In 1995 and 1996, there was a significant demand for agricultural equipment all around the world. Due to suppliers' excessively aggressively high-priced, subpar quality farm machinery, the market was extremely competitive. Since there were numerous businesses, they started producing using standard tools and technology. Because they couldn't charge enough for high-quality products, the manufacturer of quality machinery was forced to close. The company's founder and CEO, Mr. Sasidharan Govindan, a commerce graduate, considered diversifying agriculture machines during the competition. He also obtained information about the state of the upcoming market and experimented with the products and materials that were in increasing demand in India. Eventually, he came to the conclusion that there is a strong global market for purchases and that our agricultural machinery and technologies are progressing significantly.

Sabin Enterprises exports agricultural machinery from companies including Massey Ferguson, Mahindra, John Deere, Sonalika, and Swaraj. Among many other products, we provide combine harvesters, self-feeding multi-crop power threshers, rotavators like the Yodha and the Disc Harrow, precision planters, tractor-mounted cultivators, and reaper binders. We guarantee global standards as a small-scale member of the Engineering Export Promotion Council and the All-India Exporters Chambers. Numerous customers are drawn to our goods by their great performance, usability, and uncompromising design. Our outstanding market standing, sizable sales volume, and 40 years of business experience have earned us the trust of clients worldwide. Additionally, we export our goods to Kenya, Tanzania, Panama, Ghana, Dubai, Sudan, Bahrain, Cook Island, Djibouti, Ethiopia, Morocco, the Netherlands, the Antilles, Oman, the Philippines, Qatar, Rwanda, South Africa, the United Arab Emirates, Zambia, and other nations.
